4.2.2 If we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply the terms of any agreement or policy to which we are a party, or to protect the rights, property, or safety of us, our clients, or others. This may include exchanging information with other companies and organisations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

5 Legal basis of processing

5.1 Data Protection Law requires us to meet at least one “legal ground” for processing, currently set out in Article 6 of the GDPR. The grounds applicable to the personal data to which this notice relates are:

5.1.1 Where the processing is necessary for us to perform a contract that you are party to, or to take steps at your request prior to entering a contract, that is the ground on which we are processing that data.

5.1.2 Where the processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which we are subject, that is the ground on which we are processing that data.

5.1.3 Where processing is necessary for the purposes of our legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party, that is the ground on which we are processing that data, provided that your fundamental rights and freedoms which require protection of your data override those legitimate interests (our legitimate interests comprise the management, marketing and provision of the services of members of Chambers).

5.1.4 If you have given your consent to our processing the data, that is the basis on which we are processing that data.

If more than one of the above grounds apply to the processing of data in question, the applicable ground will be the one that is set out first above.

5.2 Special categories of personal data.

If you provide us with any special categories of personal data (that is to say information as to racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, physical or mental health, sex life or sexual orientation or genetic or biometric data) or personal data relating to criminal convictions and offences, it is a condition of us receiving that information that:

5.2.1 our processing of such data is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; or

5.2.2 you expressly consent (and if 5.2.1 is not applicable, you hereby do expressly consent) to us processing that personal data for the purposes set out in section 3.

If we receive any such categories of personal data about you from a source other than you, we will process that data to the extent that such processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

6 Where we store your personal data

6.1 The data that we collect from you will be stored on our computers and servers or those of our service providers. It will not be transferred to a third party outside the European Economic Area ("EEA") unless to a processor acting on our behalf which is either:

6.1.1 in a country that the European Union has decided has adequate data protection laws in place, or

6.1.2 has provided appropriate data protection safeguards of the sort approved by the European Union and provide effective rights and remedies for you.

6.2 We may take data outside the EEA to the extent necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims, or to allow Members to perform legal services whilst travelling outside the EEA.

6.3 All information you provide to us is stored on our secure servers.

6.4 Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted; any transmission is at your own risk. Once we have received your information, we will use strict procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorised access.

6.5 Paper applications for pupillage will be stored in files which are kept secure in Chambers.

7 Length of data storage

- 7.1 Our policy is to ensure that personal data is only stored for as long as is necessary for the purposes set out at section 3 above. This may vary according to the type of information and the specific applicable purpose(s). If you would like to know what that means in respect of your personal data, please contact us (see section 8.2 below). In determining how long we retain your information we take into consideration the following criteria: our legal obligations, claim limitation periods, good industry practice, the guidance of relevant UK authorities and bodies such as HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) and the Bar Standards Board, and also tax, accounting, health and safety, and employment rules, guidance and practice.

8 Your rights

- 8.1 You have various rights under Data Protection Law. These include:

- 8.1.1 The right to ask us not to process your personal data for direct marketing purposes, even if you have given consent.
- 8.1.2 If our processing is based on your consent, the right to withdraw any consent you may have given for our processing of your data – if you exercise this right, we will be required to stop such processing if consent is the sole lawful ground on which we are processing that data.
- 8.1.3 The right to ask us for access to the data we hold about you (see section 9 below for further details).
- 8.1.4 The right to ask us to rectify any data that we hold about you that is inaccurate or incomplete.
- 8.1.5 The right to ask us to delete your data in certain circumstances.
- 8.1.6 The right to ask us to restrict our processing of your data in certain circumstances.
- 8.1.7 The right to object to our processing of your data in certain circumstances.
- 8.1.8 In certain circumstances, the right to require us to give you the data we hold about you in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format so that you can provide the data to another data controller.

- 8.2 You can exercise any of the rights set out above, free of charge, by using any applicable methods set out in our communications with you, or by contacting us at the address set out at the beginning of this notice or by emailing our clerks at clerks@northampton-chambers.co.uk. In respect of most of the rights referred to above, your right may be qualified by the GDPR, for example where our processing of data is for the purposes of the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or where legal privilege applies. We may therefore not be able or required to fulfil your request, but we will discuss this with you following your request if necessary. Also, we may need more information from you, which we will ask you for following your request. We may ask you to provide further information in order to confirm your identity. Please also note that if you submit unfounded or excessive (for example repetitive) requests to exercise any of these rights, we reserve the right to make a reasonable charge for providing the requested information or taking the requested action, or to decline your request.

- 8.3 You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (www.ico.org.uk) if you are concerned that we are not respecting your rights under Data Protection Law. The Information Commissioner's Office is the authority in the UK, which is responsible for overseeing the application of, and enforcing, Data Protection Law.

Please note that this right is subject to the rights of others in relation to their own personal data, meaning that we cannot disclose data to you if it would involve disclosing data about someone else.
- 9.3 Please see section 8.2 above as to how to exercise your rights under this section 9. Section 8.2 applies in full to the exercise of these rights.
